

Write a news article about Luton Foodbank

Luton Foodbank provides food parcels to people who are facing an emergency and can't afford enough food. Many children in Luton live in poverty, and things have got worse during the Covid-19 pandemic.

Luton Foodbank buys food with money donated by the public, and this year it needs more money than ever.

We need your help raising awareness of food poverty in Luton. Please use the attached template to create a newspaper article explaining what Luton Foodbank does, and how people can help. You can include reasons people might be unable to afford enough food, and explain why you think more people are affected this year.

Don't forget to include an eye-catching headline and a picture to illustrate your article.

